Superintendent Cohn Tells What a Task This is.

PROBLEM FOR THE BOYS

If Metal Receptacles Are Substituted for Ash Barrels, Where Will Boys Get Their Bonfire

Material ?

The annual report of Superintendent Henry J. Cohn, of the Street Cleaning Department, to the Mayor, has just been printed, and gives in attractive form a review of what the department has accomplished during the first year of the management of Mr. Cohn. Mr. Cohn has not found his duties light

Mr. Coin has not found his duties light by altogether agreeable. The law-abiding citizens, usually so considered, have hampered him no little and given him no end of trouble. He says:

"Considerable time and space might be employed in enumeration of culpable acts and delinquencies on the part of citizens, through the habitual violation and the feble enforcement of laws that have practically ceased to exist. It has frequently happened that the street cleaning force has passed down the street, and before it has reached the next corner men and wemen have been seen throwing rubbish into the street, but swept. Handbills and other printed matter distributed to pedestrians are thrown on the sidewalk or into the street. Such things are not done contemptuously, but with a spirit of indifference to laws not enforced."

"It took considerable time and trouble to make the people of various sections of the city understand that the alleys were not to be filled with trash and ashes. When I took charge it was almost impossible to keep the various alleys clean, and it was only by extreme measures that this was finally accomplished. I had to report citizens to the Police Court before I could convince them that there were laws for alleys as well as streets."

Among the recommendations made by Mr. Cohn are that the men should be uniformed, a decided advancement, be thinks, and that a uniform size metal receptacle for ashes should be used.

Boys Take Barrels.

Regarding the later, he says: "Under present conditions one man cannot handle the boxes and barrels in use. Consequently it requires one or more ash lifters to assist the driver in transferring the ashes from these huge barrels to the cart. The cost would not be very much when it is taken into consideration how many barrels are stolen by boys during the Christmas holidays and at other times of celebration. Under present conditions it requires eight (8) men to assist the ash cart drivers. These men could be used to great advantage on other work, and would show much better results for

TREATY'S CHANGES GREATLY IMPROVED

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, July 15.—Dr. Thomas
Herran, the Colombian charge, received advices to-day from American friends in Bogota that the chances for the ratification of the treaty have improved greatly Hogold that the the providing the property of the treaty have improved greatly in the last few days. No reasen is assigued for this change, but Dr. Herran thinks the decision of President Maroquin, although the Congress did not meet last year, its regular session cannot occur until July 20th of next year, may have had considerable effect on public opinion. The Constitution provides that regular sessions of Congress shall be held every two years, beginning with 1886, thus making it impossible for the regular session of Congress to be called except in even years. This means that the present spacial session of the Colombian Congress can be continued as long as the President desires, and can consider only those questions put before it by the President. Dr. Herran will call at the State Department to-morrow to advise Secretary Hay of the encouraging news.

Then he fined the defendants $100 each, from which decision they took an appeal, and gave ball in the sum of $300 each for their appearance in the linealing Court at the September sitting of the

The defendants were represented by Colonel M. L. Spotswood and Mr. L. O. Wendenburg, and the Commonwealth's Attorney represented the Commonwealth's with Mr. A. B. Guigon as counsel for Mr. Buchanan.

Cause of the Trial.

The case arose over the publication in "The Opinion," a paper printed in the interests of the working people. The article referred to tended to cast a grave reflection upon the character of Mr. Buchanan, in stating through an aridavit, sworn to by one William Ferris, that he was passing himself off in this community under an assumed name.

This afficient was published by the defendants, without any effort having been made on their part to investigate the truth of the statement. It was considered by the court to have carried with it in its publication a degree of malice.

Witnesses were introduced by Mr. Buchanan to prove that the publication was entirely without foundation, and that there was not the slightest grounds of excuse for the defense.

Rev. Dr. Jere Witherspoon, an eminent divine, stated on the stand that he hed known Mr. Buchanan from infancy, and that he knew his parents before him and that he had always borne the tame under which he was now known, and always had a splendid character and reputative.

inder which he was now known. His silways had a splendid character and reputation.

The publication of the affidavit was confessed by the defendants. They disclaimed all thought of intended indury, and carried no malice. It was simply printed, they said, as a matter of news, and if a mistake had been made it was one that is likely to occur in any newspaper office at any time.

The thought of harm to Mr. Buchanan was far from the mind of the defendants, they declared, and his connection with the Passenger and Power Company did not impel them to rush into print with the affidavit before an investigation as to its truth had been made. They were in a hurry to get to press, and did not have time to fivestigate, assuming that their rights in what is known as "privTeged communication," covered the matter.

Not Privileged.

Not Privileged.

Commonwealth's Attorney Rehardson industriously worked the case to a finish. He showed that the publication was not a "privileged communication," but a "privileged communication," but a stepping mailee, and that it was clearly intended to injure Mr. Buchanan socially and professionally.

"If we permit such things to go on." said Mr. Richardson, "law and order may the defense, thought it was clearly shown by the defendants themselves that no malice was intended, and as for himself, if a man did him a wrong, intendional or otherwise, and he apologized, he would grasp his hand in a close embrace and call it square, and any man who called himself a man would do the same thing. AMERICAN FLAG ON BRITISH ISLES

News of Its Having Been Rais* ed on Islands Near Borneo Causes Surprise. (By Associated Press.)

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, July 15.—According to the press association, a curious rumor was current in the lobby of the House of Commons to engint to the effect that some United States warships had selzed about twenty small islands off the coast of Borneo, which, it is understood, belong to Great Britain, and had planted the American flag on them. It is probable that a question on the subject will be asked in the House.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—The reported seizure of islands off the coast of Borneo by American warships, apparently was as great a surprise to administration officials in Washington as it was to members of Parliament in London. No information that such a sten was contemplated has come from the admiration of the washington as it was contemplated has come from the admiration manding the American fleet in Philippine waters and no exploitation along the lines indicated has been directed by the officials here so far as could be ascertained to-night.

A very plausible explanation of the reported occurrence, it is stated, is that the commanding officer in the Philippines simply having sent one or more of his vessels and hoisted the flag of the United States over the Cagavan group, near the coast of Borneo, which were purchased by the United States from Spain, subsequent to the treaty of Paris, and that the sovereignty of the United States over them had been formally proclaimed.

The occasion was the much talked-of ball game at Broad Street Park, between teams from Richmond and Norfolk Eerics.

Norfolk came here ready to make the feathers fly, and the result shows that the feathers fly and the result shows that the feathers did fly. It was a prety tough affair, however, and even with victory on their banner, Norfolk didn't have a snap.

Twelve or fifteen hundred rooters, many of them ladles, saw and enloyed the game, and the fine Franklin Band from Norfolk played choice selections during the game.

Mach of the success of the affair is due to the combined work of the committees from both eeries, consisting of Messrs. P. Roseum, George Heppel, C.? West, Charles Dant, W. Holzman, T. Duncan, Jack Shierna and W. B. Langley, of, Norfolk; J. W. Carmody, G. E. Guvernator, James Kain, Jr. W. J. Vaughan, Pat McDonoush, N. Bernstein, Joseph West and Gus Bernier, of Richmond.

These gentiemen worked hard, and with the personal, popularity of each member of the local eerie, success was attained. The visting team had with them the team's old player of the Virginia and Attantic Leaguers, Hargrove, who was given an ovation when he first went to bat. A good game was put up. The line up follows:
